Vol. 23, No. 10 October 2023

OCTOBER DEMONSTRATOR –Simon Begg Tuesday, October 3rd , In Person & via Zoom

Ed Sonny Jones - edsonnyjones333@gmail.com Simon Begg is a full-time woodturner from Sydney, Australia. He started turning in high school and following that, he did his trade in cabinetmaking. In 2016, Simon attended Turnfest, Australia's turning symposium, which inspired him to quit his job at 21 and start his turning career.

Quickly, Simon got his works in a range of timber galleries in NSW, sold work through markets and took commissions which were often the more unique projects. Simon has now taught at Turnfest multiple times, teaches the majority of the turning at Timberbits, a wood school in Mona Vale, has done zoom classes overseas and runs private classes in his workshop.

Simon's work is varied with his specialties in German ring turning, carved embellishment and bowl turning. His work has intentional design with a focus on form, proportion and texture. Techniques like the German ring turning have been a great challenge, done not just to keep a disappearing skill alive but to also challenge Simon's abilities on the lathe.

LADIES OF THE LATHE

Debra Higley-Feldman - debrakhf@gmail.com

On Tuesday, October 17th, Jay Miller will be showing us how to turn birdhouse ornaments. These are a great way to use Schacht offcuts and various wood scraps. The ornaments shown in this photo were made by Debra Higley-Feldman. The offset ornament with a creature is a template for ornaments. Others are mostly burl, maple, and cherry, some with beads and Tombow watercolors.

The class will be held at Rockler from 10:00 to 4:00.

Al Murphy – ajmurphyl@comcast.net Evidence was recently found in Africa of a halfmillion-year-old woodworking project. So, wood workers really are proto-human!

Individual Catalog Orders

Two additional companies, Klingspor and Penn State Industries, offer discounts to members who wish to place individual catalog orders. To take advantage of these discounts, you must be on their list of FRW members. To be placed on the list, please sign up at a meeting or send an e-mail to Jay Miller (jaymiller9637@comcast.net). Here are some projects that members have been working on this month.

Debra Higley-Feldman made a lidded box of redwood burl with a segmented ring of walnut and a walnut/redwood burl/ash lid. It is 5-1/2" across and finished with Danish wood oil and carnauba wax.

Henry Williams made this hollow form of buckeye burl and blackwood. Measuring 9" tall, it was finished with Danish oil. There was a big bark inclusion and a crack through to the top, so he used strapping tape to hold it together during hollowing.

Gordon Dalby made this 10" diameter x 5" high salad bowl- of chechem, wenge, marble, yellow heart and many others in the floating bottom. The finish is instant glue, poly wipe-on and good Beale buffing.

made an ash vase and small platter and also a twisted cherry vase and a spalted aspen vase with a couple of riders.

Larry Hughes made this vase mostly of mahogany with a feature made from maple, red fruit wood and walnut. It stands 10" tall. The fruit bowl is made from mahogany, blue pine and purple heart. The ring/jewelry bowl is made with blue pine, bubinga, and white oak. He added a touch of blue dye to help the pine color pop.

Dan Prorak was a demonstrator at the Rocky Mountain Woodturning Symposium last month. To prepare for the demos, he made lots of practice pieces, cocktail smokers and double tri-corners. The other photo is Don's new lathe, a Vicmarc VL300.

Cathie McLean made her first 'board to bowls." Two are economy bowls, one cherry and one poplar.

The other was made by glueing together a pine blank. She wanted to play with colors and decided to pair that with a slight tulip shape. She really enjoyed how the end grain came out.

Blaine Blaesing made this weed pot from a great piece of mesquite. With numerous worm holes, it measures 11" high.

WITH AGE, I REALIZE...

Aging certainly does bring changes. See how many of these you agree with. They were found by Richard Kuivila on Facebook.

- 1. I tallk to myself. Sometimes I need an expert's advice,.
- 2. Sometimes I roll my eyes out loud.
- 3. I don't need anger management. I need other people to stop pissing me off.
- 4. My people skills are just fine but my tolerance for idiots needs a little work.
- 5. The biggest lie I tell myself is, "Oh, you'll remember."
- 6. Nap time is not a punishment. It's a reward.
- 7. The day the world runs out of wine is too terrible to even think about.
- 8. Duct tape can't fix stupid, but it can muffle the sound.
- 9. Wouldn't it be great if we could put ourselves in the dryer and come out wrinkle-free and three sizes smaller?
- 10 "Getting Lucky" actually means walking into a room and remembering why I came in.
